

HUME LOCKE UNIVERSITY

Hume Locke University (HLU), Based in Los Angeles in California, is a high quality qualification provider which aims to build leadership and management capability at individual, team and organisational levels. HLU provides managers in every sector and in every role with the active support they need to advance in management. HLU has a network of approved Centres across the United States, Canada and Mexico that represent a combination of instructors/trainers, colleges, universities and companies running in-house adult programmes. These Centres are specialists in delivering our range of competence based programmes, from Team Leading to Masters degree equivalent level, and help to qualify over 70,000 managers and leaders each year, working in conjunction with a strategic alliance with the Institute Of Leadership and Management (ILM) in the UK.

Approved Centres

To become approved to offer HLU qualifications and awards, training providers are required to present evidence on how they will meet the criteria for an HLU Approved Centre. The timescale to Centre approval depends on the amount of development work that a centre may have to complete to meet the Approved Centre Criteria and this may be a matter of only a few weeks. Centre approval is based on the requirements that HLU as a UK awarding body has to meet for the Qualifications Curriculum Authority (QCA). Guidance will be given by the appropriate HLU Manager.

Professional Development Programmes for Managers

HLU offers widely respected career development programmes that provide a flexible pathway for individuals to develop and enhance their careers. The programmes focus on developing the practical knowledge and skills necessary for effective team leading and management. In conjunction with ILM, HLU has developed a range of International Management Qualifications (IMQs) specifically designed to meet the needs of the international market, and these link directly to the UK qualification levels on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), with a structure and assessment process to suit.

HLU International Management Qualifications*

IMQ Foundation Award in Management Principles

IMQ Certificate in Team Leading (Mapped to UK VRQ Level 2) *

IMQ Certificate in Management (Mapped to UK VRQ Level 3) *

IMQ Diploma in Management (Mapped to UK VRQ Level 5) *

* Introductory versions of each level are also available.

Exceptionally other HLU Qualifications may be available to overseas centres subject to the agreement of the HLU Business Manager.

Endorsed and Development Awards

These awards enable organisations to gain external validation and recognition for their own leadership and/or management programmes which have been designed to support their specific organisational needs and tailored to their internal systems and practices.

HLU Clients

HLU as an awarding body is not directly involved in the delivery of HLU programmes to candidates, but does so through its network of approved centres. Some large corporate organisations are approved to offer HLU programmes to their staff as 'In-House' centres, but often organisations choose to register their employees through independent training providers that are already approved to offer HLU Programmes.

The following list gives a small selection of clients and educational establishments, both longstanding and new that have become centres to enable them to offer managers and leaders the chance to gain an HLU qualification.
